DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. One of the pieces of art cited on the Information Disclosure Statement filed 24 May 2006 has not been considered due to an incorrectly listed date.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to because Figures 2a - 8 all contain illegible detail text. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

3. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Objections

4. Claims 3, 5, 18, and 22 are objected to because of the following informalities:

In regards to claim 3, "and are" reads awkwardly.

In regards to claim 5, "strand cables" should read --stranded cables--.

In regards to claim 18, "wherein the position a plurality" reads awkwardly.

In regards to claim 22, "peripheral cords" should read "peripheral strand cords".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 5-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 5 is unclear because claim 22 says core is strand, peripheral is strand cords, not threads. Are the core and strand cords made of threads? If so, the claim language does not clearly state this.

Claims 14-21 are unclear because claim 22 is a traction element, not a stranded cable. Examiner has no idea what to examine as far as the method, due to the unknown structure being processed. Further with claim 14, how can one matrix be adjusted to one another?

Claim 6 is unclear because Examiner does not understand how one reel can unwind all the stranded cables. Further, how can one matrix be adjusted to one another?

Claim 10 is unclear because there is no antecedent basis for "the liquefied plastics material".

Claim 12 is unclear because there is no antecedent basis for "the traction element".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 22 and 3-5, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Vanneste et al (20040045652).

Vanneste teaches a flexible traction element capable of being wound and unwound comprising at least one stranded cable comprising a steel (title) core strand and a plurality of peripheral steel (title) strand cords arranged around the core strand and pretreated, with a flexible thermoplastic material surrounding the core strand and extending into grooves formed by the adjacent peripheral cords (Figure 3c), which can be used in parallel at a spacing in a flexible thermoplastic jacket (conveyor belt).

9. Claims 6-21, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the Canadian Patent (1305597)

The Canadian Patent teaches a process for producing a traction member comprising a plurality of stranded cables coated with a flexible thermoplastic material by means of a screw adjustable guide and matrix system (Figure 1), fed from a reel (inherent), stored on a storage device (inherent), having a cutting (scraper) device and cooling device (ambient air).

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. De Josez et al (6412264), Baranda et al (6401871), Muguruma et al (5683642), and Misrachi et al (20040006963) all teach what is well known in the art.
